About Me

With my leadership skills and ability to inspire, manage and motivate my team, besides my computer and systems engineering background, along with exposure to a very wide range of software fields starting with governmental and enterprise projects in MENA region that includes e-services platforms, portals and mobile applications, to embedded systems development in automotive industry, dealing with famous car manufacturers, I was able to create a successful path in software project management field.

Work Experience

Project Leader – Valeo (Sep 2016 – To Date)

- Project planning for all phases; implementation, integration and testing between different teams and vendors from different countries (USA, Germany, Ireland, and Egypt) working on automated parking solutions for famous car manufacturers (e.g. Ford, Jaguar Land Rover).
- Directly managing a multi-site development team (Egypt & India), including tasks' planning, monitoring and control, and creating complicated risk analysis and mitigation plans.

Project Leader, Mobile Department – LINK Development (Jan 2014 – Sep 2016)

- Managing development teams, delivering 15+ projects during the last 3 years, leveraging on my 6+ years of technical experience in different software fields, besides leadership skills.
- Managing department operations across different countries, along with mentoring other project leads to provide help and consultation when needed.
- Receiving opportunities from pre-sales team, validating SOW, resources allocations, & revenue forecasting.
- Projects extended through a wide range of businesses and use cases, starting from large enterprise e-services platforms and performance management systems to small CMSs.

Following is a list of accounts and projects managed by me during this period:

I. Orange Account, Egypt

Managed to turn one small project into a big account with 3-4 projects per year. Managing different delivery teams, planning development activities, and handling communications for almost three years.
